Dear Kevin,

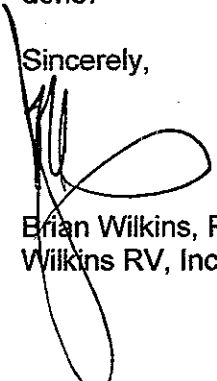

I wanted to write you a letter of appreciation for all of your assistance in the building of our new RV facility. It was a pleasure to do business with you, your employees and all of your associates.

This endeavor was something completely new to me and was certainly a task that fell outside of my area of expertise. Although building a new dealership was a challenge for me, you and your associates were always on hand to help me through this difficult process. It was my desire to fulfill a personal dream as well as the dreams of my parents, the entire Wilkins family, our employees, and our customers. You and your associates were so very helpful in making this dream become a reality.

You had come very highly recommended from Don Simmons. From the first day we met, I felt that there was a solid connection that would allow us to work well together. You were always honest and prompt to provide answers or feedback. You were always willing to help us find answers to questions that we had throughout the building process. It was a pleasure working with Mark Enos & Lloyd Rockwell. They were always very approachable and willing to help. Both of these gentlemen are great representatives of Chrisantha Construction. The team of subcontractors that you assembled was also outstanding. I always looked forward to going to the job site, seeing the daily progress and talking with the workers. It was remarkable how friendly they were. They quickly acknowledged our presence and professionally addressed our concerns and questions.

As we operate out of our new facility, we are very fortunate to have a product that has met all of our expectations. Employees, community members, industry representatives and customers continue to compliment our new facility. Thanks again for a job well done!

Sincerely,

Brian Wilkins, President
Wilkins RV, Inc.
