

SERVICE STEEL
A VAN PELT COMPANY

April 30, 2014

To whom it may concern:

Service Steel had a need to build a 40,000 square foot facility in the Rochester New York area. Our company was looking for a turnkey solution to our building needs, and we were referred to Chrisantha Construction from a few industry associates.

From our first development strategy meeting, we could see the professionalism with Chrisantha Construction. They had a team of folks to help guide us through every step of the process. From design and site plans, to working with the Municipalities, Chrisantha was there for us.

We even used Chrisantha to coordinate our environmental testing prior to the closing of the property. I couldn't have been more satisfied with the level of communication during this construction. We had 100% access to all documentation, including drawings on an easy to use web site. Kevin Bragg would supply weekly updates during construction to keep us current on their progress. The billing was done monthly, with detailed information of exactly what percentage of work had been completed.

Service Steel did not have much experience in construction projects, so it goes to say we were a little nervous going into a business relationship without first-hand experience. Chrisantha's professionalism and attention to detail, washed those concerns away in the first few weeks of our engagement together.

Our project was finished on time and exceeded our expectations! I have already contacted Kevin with Chrisantha to help us on a future project in another State. A big "Thanks" to the entire staff at Chrisantha Construction for a successful project!
